Good afternoon,

As you may know, OAKS CI will soon be migrated to a cloud based system. One purpose of this move is to allow for browser accessibility and device independence. Over the next several weeks you will receive weekly updates on our progress and what you can expect moving forward.

We will begin our Agency/Higher Education migration starting Friday afternoon, February 13, 2015 and run through the end of business day, Monday, February 16, 2015. Please be aware that during this time OAKS CI will not be accessible. OAKS CI will be back online and accessible to you the morning of Tuesday, February, 17, 2015. Please note that this migration to a cloud based system will only slightly change the look and feel of the system.

Thank you in advance for your patience and understanding, as we make this significant change.
