Project Overview

A. Project Description

Hocking College is soliciting qualifications for professional services to implement a college-wide integrated security solution. Hocking College's door access control and ID card systems are over fifteen (15) years old. Due to the age of these systems, outdated hardware and unsupported software present major challenges when attempting to integrate new software and technology with old services. These systems are also currently stored in a non-secured environment.

The college's decentralized door access system has approximately twenty-nine (29) electronic door locks within eight (8) different buildings. The college also has more than eight (8) different security camera systems, which consist of 108 individual cameras and eight (8) separate digital video recording (DVR) devices. Separate applications are required to monitor each of these various systems. In addition, student meal plans currently use the CBORD application while separate point of sale systems are used at Rhapsody Restaurant and the Inn at Hocking College.

This project will integrate security features designed to keep the campus community protected while also providing a one-card solution for students and staff. The plan includes door access control; video surveillance; mass notifications; one (1) ID card initiative; and a centralized point of sales (POS) system. This project will provide for a unified campus ID that incorporates security and retail operations using a centralized system. Through collaboration between the Hocking College Police Department and the Office of Information Technology, the college will be able to provide enhanced security, communication, protection and card services to students, faculty and staff on the Nelsonville, Logan, and New Lexington campuses.
